In terms of section 51 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000

1 INTRODUCTION

Section 32 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, No. 108 of 1996 (“the Constitution”) provides:

(1) Everyone has the right of access to –

- (a) any information held by the state; and
- (b) any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights.

(2) National legislation must be enacted to give effect to this right, and may provide for reasonable measures to alleviate the administrative and financial burden on the state.

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2 of 2000 (“the Act”), was enacted on 3 February 2002 to give effect to section 32 of the constitution, that is giving effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by the State and any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. Where a request is made in terms of this Act, the private or public body to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where the Act expressly provides that the information must not be released. The Act sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to such request.

The act came into effect on 9 March 2001 with the exception of sections 10, 14, 16 and 51 which sections were brought into operation on 15 February 2002.

2 WHO MAY REQUEST INFORMATION IN TERMS OF THE ACT

Any person, who requires information for the exercise or protection of any rights, may request information from a private body. Section 50 of the Act states that;

(1) A requester must be given access to any record of a private body if –

- (a) that record is required for the exercise or protection of any rights;
- (b) that person complies with the procedural requirements in this Act relating to a request for access to that record; and
